Afternoon, day 2

What is printed to the console by this code?

```
1  for num in [1,3,5,7,9]:
2      if 3 < num < 7:
3          print(num)
```

A. 4

B. 5

C. 1

D. 6

What is the result of applying this function?

```python
1  def foo(bar):
2      baz = []
3      for v in bar:
4          baz = [v] + baz
```

A. Reverses a list given as an argument

B. Nothing

C. Returns the input list unmodified

D. Sums the values of the input list

What does this function do?

```
1  def bar(baz):
2      c = 0
3      for i in baz:
4          if i == 'a':
5              c = c + 1
6      return c
```

A. Counts the number of 'a' characters in a string

B. Nothing

C. Retuns a string containing 's' and 'a' charcters depending on the argument

What is the result of this expression?

```
1  sorted([5, 3, 8, 7, 2])
```

A. SyntaxError

B. [2, 3, 5, 7, 8]

C. TypeError